

Land and food resources

Subject descriptions

The subjects Agriculture and the Australian Environment, Land Resources and Their Management, Science and Communication, Conservation of Australian Forests, Forestry and Parks and Recreation are available on a non-Science credit basis. See Institute of Land and Food Resources section in this Handbook.

Students enrolled in any BSc course or BAsC will receive 12.5 Science points for the completion of 212-201 Soil Resources.

---

212-201 Soil Resources

See full subject details on page 627.

