

Italian

Italian studies at the University of Melbourne offers the most comprehensive program of its kind in Victoria. Students from all faculties have the opportunity to study the language and literature of one of the richest cultures in Europe. Multiple entry points are provided from beginners to advanced levels of language proficiency through the concurrent diploma and international exchange and study abroad. The emphasis on practical language acquisition and the study of Italian culture make Italian a rewarding option for all students. Students are able to select from a comprehensive and fascinating range of subjects in areas of linguistics, dialects, literature and contemporary cultural studies. Taught by staff with strong research interests and expertise in these areas, the program equips students with an excellent grounding in Italian language, literature and culture and provides avenues into exciting career opportunities. Students who are interested in expanding their interests and knowledge in Italian studies are provided with an articulated structure of higher degree study at the University of Melbourne.

Language study streams

The Department of French and Italian Studies offers three streams of Italian:

beginners

The beginners stream is for students who have little or no knowledge of Italian. It is available to students at first and second year although students intending to complete a major will need to commence Italian in their first year.

intermediate

The intermediate stream is usually only available to students who have undertaken four to five years of secondary school Italian, normally to Year 11, or an approved equivalent. It is not available to those who have sat for VCE Italian or equivalent.

post-VCE

The post-VCE stream is usually only available to students who have obtained a pass in VCE Italian, or its equivalent.

Students who have not formally studied VCE Italian, but believe they have achieved an equivalent competence, must receive written permission from the Italian Part 1 coordinator before enrolling.

The department determines the language stream in which a student is to enrol. Placement is based on VCE results, other language study records, or a placement test.

Stream enrolment remains provisional until confirmed or, alternatively, altered according to the student's needs as determined by the department during the first two weeks of teaching. As far as possible, the department will notify students of any changes to their stream enrolment during the first two weeks of semester. Where a change is made in the third or fourth week of semester it will be reported to Associate Dean (Academic Programs).

Diploma in Modern Languages (Italian)

The Diploma in Modern Languages (DML) enables students to gain a diploma in language study while completing an undergraduate degree at the University of Melbourne.

The DML usually involves a three-year sequence of language study, totalling a minimum of 100 points. It adds one year to the duration of an ordinary degree course.

The DML (Italian) is offered in the beginners, intermediate and post-VCE streams. Italian subjects are taken alongside degree subjects in an integrated sequence of study. This must be approved by a faculty course adviser and the Italian section of the French and Italian Department. See Diploma in Modern Languages (p.13).

Requirements for a major

A major in Italian usually consists of 125 points comprising:

- four first-year subjects in Italian (37.5 points); and
- three second-year subjects in Italian (37.5 points); and
- four third-year subjects in Italian (50 points).

A major must include either:

- two honours subjects in the combined area of study (25 points); and
- 116-410 Italian Honours Language Seminar 1 (p.7) (12.5 points); and
- two honours subjects in Italian (25 points).

Further study

A BA with a major in Italian can lead to a Postgraduate Diploma in Arts (Italian).

The section also offers an MA and PhD by research. Students interested in postgraduate study should consult the departmental postgraduate information booklet and make an appointment to see the postgraduate coordinator.

Career opportunities

The training acquired in learning a language and the practical competence involved in using it effectively provide skills of great value in a variety of occupations and appreciated by many employers. Such skills are increasingly considered essential in a number of professions, for example in international trade, law, diplomacy, journalism, social and medical services, and many others.

Former students have followed successful and rewarding careers as interpreters, journalists, librarians and teachers. Many have found employment in public relations, the media, the airline industry, travel and tourism, and in business. Italy is now one of the major industrialised nations, making knowledge of Italian a valuable asset for those embarking on a business career.

Language subjects

116-141 Beginners Italian Part 1A

Note: Formerly available as 116-049. Students who have completed 116-049 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 1st and 2nd year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Coordinator: Dr Kerstin Pilz

Prerequisites: Students who have attempted Year 11 or 12 Italian or its equivalent are not eligible to enrol.

Corequisites: 116-142 Beginners Italian Part 1B (p.2).

Contact: Four hours of language and conversation classes per week (Semester 1).

Description: This subject provides a comprehensive introduction to contemporary Italian. Language classes will gradually familiarise the students with the structures, rules and skills necessary to communicate in Italian. Continuous assessment (through tests, exercises, and other activities) is fundamental to evaluating the students' progress in the acquisition of Italian. By the end of the semester, students will have developed oral and written skills that will enable them to achieve a reasonable level of competency in Italian.

Assessment: Class tests and written work totalling 2000 words, language assignments totalling 1000 words and a 1-hour test.

Prescribed texts: Merlonghi, Tursi & O'Connor, Oggi in Italia, Houghton Mifflin Company, 2002.

116-057 Intermediate Italian A

Availability: 1st, 2nd and 3rd year

Credit points: 12.5 HECS-band: 1

Coordinator: Dr Vita Giordano

Prerequisites: Completion of 116-143 Beginners Italian Part 1C (p.2) and 116-144 Beginners Italian Part 1D (p.2), or adequate knowledge of Italian without completion of VCE Italian, or an approved equivalent. Students should consult with departmental advisors prior to enrolment.

Contact: Three hours of language classes per week (Semester 1).

Description: This subject is a systematic revision and consolidation of the basic structures of the Italian language. Grammatical explanations will be integrated through regular weekly exercises and activities, oral and written, so as to extend the range of vocabulary and improve fluency. A range of audio and audiovisual activities will also provide further opportunities to practice and develop competence in the language. By the end of the first semester, students should have consolidated their knowledge of the basic structures of Italian, acquired the knowledge to compare and contrast features of English and Italian vocabulary and syntax, and attained a reasonable level of competence in written and oral production.

Assessment: Written tests totalling 3000 words, take-home assignments totalling 1000 words and attendance.

Contact: Three hours of language classes per week (Semester 1).

Description: In this subject students will be exposed to, and will work through, a number of different styles and registers. Students will undertake the study of selected contemporary literary texts for the purpose of extending vocabulary and practising Italian conversation. By the end of the semester, students should have learnt to identify, and correctly use, the main registers of Italian, spoken and written; improved their composition skills; and acquired the ability to discuss in Italian, both orally and in writing, extended prose texts.

Assessment: Written work totalling 2000 words, two hours of written tests, a 15-minute class paper, and a 15-minute oral test.

Prescribed texts: P Marnini & G Vicentini, Passeggiate italiane, (livello intermedio) Bonacci, Roma, 1998. • S Buttaroni, Letteratura al naturale, latest edn, Bonacci, Roma.

116-028 European Spectacle

See full subject details on page 6.

Third-year subject

116-066 Italian 3R: Research Project

Note: Formerly available as 116-313. Students who have completed 116-313 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 3rd year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Coordinator: Dr Kerstin Pilz

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points of second-year Italian either at advanced or post-beginners level. European studies students wishing to enrol in this subject would normally have completed 25 points of European studies at second/third year, see Prerequisites (p.1).

Contact: Fortnightly meetings with the supervisor (Semester 1, repeat 2).

Description: For this subject, students must complete a 5000-word research project in English or Italian on a topic to be approved by their supervisor and by the subject coordinator. The subject's aim is to train students in carrying out a substantial piece of work in preparation for the fourth-year honours thesis. The areas of research may be connected with the subjects offered this year, or in another area connected with the research interests of staff. On completion of the project, students should have extended and deepened their knowledge of the chosen topic; sharpened their critical faculties in relation to source material and secondary literature; and acquired substantial skills in planning and executing a research program on a specific topic.

Assessment: Written work totalling 5000 words.

Prescribed texts: Bibliography to be discussed with the supervisor.

Third/fourth-year subjects

116-416 Modern Italian Novel

Note: Due to overlap in subject content students who have completed 116-078 (in 2001 and 1999) are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points of Italian at intermediate or post-VCE level for third year. Admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth-year honours in Italian for fourth year. European studies students wishing to enrol in this subject would normally have completed 37.5 points of European studies at second/third year.

Semester: Not Offered

Description: The subject examines a sample of the most significant and interesting prose fiction coming out of Italy in recent times. Students focus on the 20th century Italian novel in order to analyse the Italian novel tradition and the impact of postmodernism on recent output. The subject encourages students to analyse the social context of the fiction studied relating it to developments in Italian society in the postwar period. Students taking this subject will learn to apply contemporary literary theory to specific texts; to evaluate the importance of specific Italian elements in the novels studied and to be able to discuss novels using Italian.

116-418 To Hell with Dante

Note: Formerly available as 116-071/318. Students who have completed 116-071 or 116-318 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Coordinator: Dr Stephen Kolsky

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points of Italian at intermediate or post-VCE level for third year. Admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth-year honours in Italian for fourth year. European studies students wishing to enrol in this subject would normally have completed 37.5 points of European studies at second/third year, see Prerequisites (p.1).

Contact: A 1-hour lecture and a 1.5-hour seminar per week (Semester 1).

Description: This subject concentrates on selected cantos of Dante's Inferno. Students will develop techniques which will enable them to analyse the poetic language of the Inferno. Guided readings in secondary material will give students an understanding of some of the key medieval concepts of the Inferno. The subject is designed so that students will be in a position to appreciate and analyse one of the most impressive poems in western literature. By the end of the subject students should have acquired some understanding of the basic theological, philosophical and literary concepts of the Inferno and have developed critical strategies for interpreting its poetry.

Assessment: A 500-word quiz, a 1.5-hour test, an essay of 2000 words for 3rd year, an essay of 3000 words for 4th year.

Prescribed texts: D Alighieri, Inferno, R M Durling (ed), OUP. • D Alighieri, Inferno, N Sapegno (ed), La Nuova Italia.

116-419 Dante 2

Note: Formerly available as 116-072. Students who have completed 116-072 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

Coordinator: Dr Stephen Kolsky

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points at either post-beginners or post-VCE sequence for third year, admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth year honours in Italian for fourth year. European studies students wishing to enrol in this subject would normally have completed 37.5 points of European studies at second/third year, see Prerequisites (p.1).

Contact: A 1.5-hour lecture and a 1.5-hour seminar per week (Semester 2).

Description: This subject will complete the study of the Divina commedia begun with the Inferno. It will build on techniques already acquired by students in their previous study of Dante. The subject will place the two cantiche in their medieval context so that students will be able to grasp more easily the originality of Dante's poem. The historical and political context of Purgatorio and Paradiso will be examined in order to render the two cantiche more accessible to the students. By the end of the subject students should be able to analyse the poetic techniques employed by Dante. Students should have acquired an understanding of medieval culture in order to appreciate Purgatorio and Paradiso in their historical context.

Assessment: A 500-word quiz, a 1.5-hour test, an essay of 2000 words for 3rd year, an essay of 3000 words for 4th year.

Prescribed texts: D Alighieri, Purgatorio, R M Durling (ed), Oxford University Press. • D Alighieri, Paradiso, Sapegno (ed), La Nuova Italia.

116-460 Italian as She is Spoke

Note: Formerly available as 116-073. Students who have completed 116-073 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Prerequisites: 37.5 points at either post-beginners or post-VCE sequence for third year, admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth-year honours in Italian for fourth year.

Semester: Not Offered

Description: The subject consists of two parts: (1) Contrastive study of Italian and English sound systems and language structures in order to highlight the differences; and (2) Varieties of Italian component which will focus on a range of varieties of Italian in use today. This will include looking at factors (eg. regional, social, cultural and political) that may influence such variation. It will also consider the role of Italian on the world stage and the influence of other languages on Italian. The subject is both descriptive and practical and is intended to assist students with a better understanding of spoken and written Italian in its many contexts.

116-462 Sex and Power in the Renaissance

Note: Formerly available as 116-074/362. Students who have completed 116-074 or 116-362 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points of Italian at intermediate or post-VCE level for third year. Admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth-year honours in Italian for fourth year. European studies students wishing to enrol in this subject would normally have completed 37.5 points of European studies at second/third year, see Prerequisites (p.1).

Semester: Not Offered

Description: The subject will examine two classics of Italian literature, Boccaccio's Decameron and Machiavelli's Il Principe. The first, composed in the 1350s, is a classic of comic writing which became an essential reference-point for later writers. Students will study a selected number of stories to understand their narrative structures and their major themes. Il Principe is the foundation work of modern political science. Its reputation has ensured continuing interest in such a provocative work. By the end of the subject students should have acquired a basic knowledge of Renaissance culture and politics. Students should also have gained some understanding of narratological analysis and have applied it to the Decameron.

116-463 From Reason to Romanticism

Note: Formerly available as 116-075/363. Students who have completed 116-075 or 116-363 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Coordinator: Assoc Prof Rita Wilson

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points at either post-beginners or post-VCE sequence for third year, admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth year honours in Italian for fourth year. European studies students wishing to enrol in this subject would normally have completed 37.5 points of European studies at second/third year, see Prerequisites (p.1).

Contact: A 1-hour lecture and 1.5 hour seminar per week (Semester 1).

Description: This subject looks at critical moments in the historical and cultural development of Italy from the early 18th century until Italy's unification in the late 19th century. Themes examined include the history of ideas as well as the defining cultural movements in Italy of this period. We begin with Illuminismo (Enlightenment) and its emphasis on reason, and the gradual shift to Romanticism, which became a powerful force in Italian cultural expression and historical development. We consider specifically the works of some of the greatest figures of this time: Ugo Foscolo, Giacomo Leopardi, Giovanni Pascoli, Gabriele D'Annunzio among others.

Assessment: Written work and assessment equivalent to 4000 words at 3rd year and 5000 words at 4th year.

Prescribed texts: A reading pack will be available and other materials will be distributed in class.

Fosca, Tarchetti, Loescher.

116-466 The Story of Italian

Note: Formerly available as 116-076/366. Students who have completed 116-076 or 116-366 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points of Italian at intermediate or post-VCE level for third year. Admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth year honours in Italian for fourth year. European studies students wishing to enrol in this subject would normally have completed 37.5 points of European studies at second/third year, see Prerequisites (p.1).

Semester: Not Offered

Description: This subject begins with a study of the history of the language, which describes the development of the Italian language since its Indo-European origins; the linguistic situation in Roman Italy; the fragmentation of Latin; and the genesis of present day Italian dialects. The subject will also focus on the questione della lingua and the ascendancy of Tuscan/Roman. The 'dialectology' section of the subject involves an introduction to the study of one regional dialect. On completion of this subject, students should have acquired a basic knowledge of the structures of Latin to the extent that they are reflected in present day Italian; a knowledge of the development of Italian from post-classical Latin to the language spoken in contemporary Italy, and the reasons for that development; and a basic knowledge of the structures of one major Italian dialect.

116-467 Modern Italian Theatre

Note: Formerly available as 116-077/367. Students who have completed 116-077 or 116-367 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Coordinator: Dr Stephen Kolsky

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points at either post-beginners or post-VCE sequence for third year, admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth year honours in Italian for fourth year. European studies students wishing to enrol in this subject would normally have completed 37.5 points of European studies at second/third year, see Prerequisites (p.1).

Contact: A 1-hour lecture and a 1.5-hour seminar per week (Semester 2).

Description: This subject will examine a selection of the most significant dramatic texts of modern Italian literature from the 18th to the 20th centuries. The subject will concentrate on a number of key texts written by Goldoni, Pirandello, Fo and Rame. Students will be asked to pay particular attention to the structural features of the plays studied, relating them, where appropriate, to current theoretical concerns and to the social and ideological context of the plays. In particular, the subject will examine the work of Dario Fo and Franca Rame in the context of the politicisation of the theatrical tradition. Students should have acquired, by the end of the subject, a knowledge of some of the landmarks in modern Italian theatre; and have developed an awareness of the critical dimensions of analysing the theatrical text and its relationship to performance.

Assessment: A class paper of 1000 words, two essays of 1500 words each for 3rd year, and 3500 words for 4th year.

Prescribed texts: C Goldoni, La bottega del caffè, Einaudi. • C Goldoni, La locandiera, Einaudi. • L Pirandello, Three Plays, Manchester University Press. • D Fo, Morte accidentale di un anarchico, Manchester University Press. • D Fo & F Rame, Venticinque monologhi per una donna, Einaudi.

116-468 Italy in Close Up

Note: Formerly available as 116-078. Students who wish to take this subject but who have previously completed Italian Special Subject A or B should contact the coordinator.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Coordinator: Dr Kerstin Pilz

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points of Italian at intermediate or post-VCE level for third year. Admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth year honours in Italian for fourth year.

Contact: A 1-hour lecture and a 1.5-hour seminar per week, plus optional 2-hour film screening (Semester 1).

Description: The subject examines social and political reality in postwar and contemporary Italy through film. It looks at topical issues such as the mafia, the representation of women, regionalism, religion, language and dialect, migration and consumerism as represented, explicitly and implicitly, in some of the best known films of Italian cinema. The subject covers films by some of the masters of Italian cinema, such as de Sica (Ladri di biciclette), de Santis (Il riso Amaro), Fellini (Amarcord), Bertolucci (Il conformista), Visconti (Rocco e i suoi fratelli) and Dino Risi (Il sorpasso), and some of the most interesting films of the 'new Italian cinema' including Giordano's I Cento Passi, Moretti's Aprile and Soldini's Pane e tulipani. By tracing the journey of postwar Italy's struggle for self-definition and quest for national identity, the films screened also offer an overview of the most important periods and genres in Italian film production, from neorealism to 'la commedia all'italiana', and introduce students to some of Italy's best known filmmakers. According to availability the above selection of films may change.

Assessment: Written work (3000-word for 3rd year, 4000-word for 4th year) and one 15-minute class presentation.

Prescribed texts: Materials available from the Department. Students are advised that most of the films are available for overnight loan from the Education Resource Centre.

116-470 Italian Special Research Project

Note: Formerly available as 116-070. Students who have completed 116-070 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points of Italian at intermediate or post-VCE level for third year. Admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth year honours in Italian for fourth year.

Semester: Not Offered

Description: Students who complete this subject should be able to demonstrate in-depth knowledge of a particular topic in Italian culture or linguistics, and demonstrate the ability to analyse and to report on their reading in a manner appropriate to the methodology adopted. Available topics will be posted during Semester 2 of the previous year.

116-478 The Sicilian Connection

Note: Formerly available as 116-088. Students who wish to take this subject but who have previously completed Italian Special Subject A or B should contact the coordinator.

Availability: 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

HECS-band: 1

Prerequisites: Completion of 37.5 points of Italian at intermediate or post-VCE level for third year. Admission to the postgraduate diploma or fourth year honours in Italian. European studies students wishing to enrol in this subject would normally have completed 37.5 points of European studies at second/third year.

Semester: Not Offered

Description: Sicily's geographical position as an island located at the crossroads between Africa and continental Europe, the Orient and the Occident, the ancient and the modern worlds, has made it a place with a separate identity and deeply ingrained contradictions. Yet to some extent the distinctness of Sicilian identity has been nourished from the outside as it has served one part of culture in defining its identity by metamorphosing, as Leonardo Sciascia would say, the 'other'. This subject examines the 'insularity' of the Sicilian mindscape as don Fabrizio refers to it in Il gattopardo. The subject explores Sicily's role in Italy's ongoing quest for national identity. Through the study of texts and film, images commonly associated with Sicilian identity, such as the Mafia and the notion of gallismo, will also be explored.
