

English Language Studies

Convener: Dr Jean Mulder

The English language program enables students to specialise in the English language by studying it from a number of perspectives: communicative, grammatical, semantic, historical, developmental and pedagogical. To speak and write the world's most widely used language effectively, we need to understand its history, its supple and intricate grammar, and the status of its many social and geographical varieties.

English language is a Faculty of Arts interdepartmental program which is housed in the Department of Linguistics and Applied Linguistics. It draws from subjects in the Department of Linguistics and Applied Linguistics, the Department of English, and the Horwood Language Centre.

The English language program may be undertaken as a major independently of other areas of study. It is also a useful complement to studies in English, linguistics and applied linguistics, a language, Australian studies, American studies, or women's studies.

Time commitment to study

As well as scheduled contact hours for lectures, tutorial and seminars a considerable additional time commitment is needed to complete the academic requirements of each subject.

A subject-specific time commitment to study will be provided by your lecturer or tutor at the beginning of semester to help you schedule your workload and successfully manage your time during the semester. In addition, general estimates of the total time commitment required to study a 12.5-point single semester subject in the Faculty of Arts can be found on page 1.

Prerequisites

The program commences at first year and there are no prerequisites for entry at this level.

Prerequisites may exist for some of the program's second/third-year subjects. Students are advised to consult the relevant area of study entries in this Handbook to make sure that they meet the prerequisites for their chosen subjects. Existing prerequisites may be waived for students undertaking an interdepartmental program. If you do not meet the existing prerequisites, please consult with the relevant subject coordinator for permission to enrol.

Diploma in Arts (English Language)

The Diploma in Arts (English Language) is only available to students who are currently enrolled in a degree course at the University of Melbourne. It consists of a three-year sequence of study, and adds one year to the duration of your degree.

Students must complete 25 points of first-year subjects including 175-106 The Linguistics of English (p.2) and 75 points of second/third-year subjects, including two compulsory subjects, selected from the lists below.

English language assistance

Although the program assumes a good mastery of English, overseas students and local students of non-English speaking background who need to consolidate their proficiency in either spoken or written English may wish to take some ESL subjects. The appropriate subjects offered at first year are:

First-year ESL subjects:	Sem.
175-107 Science Communication (ESL) (p.1)	1
175-120 Advanced ESL 1 (p.2)	1 rep 2
175-121 Advanced ESL 2 (p.2)	1 rep 2

175-125 Advanced ESL: Economics and Commerce (p.1)	1
175-126 Effective Communication for Engineering (p.2)	2
175-127 Advanced ESL Information Technology (p.1)	1

Students should note that no more than two of these subjects may be credited towards a major in English language. However, only one may be counted toward the first-year component of the major which must include the completion of the compulsory subject 175-106 The Linguistics of English (p.2). The second of these subjects may be counted as 12.5 points toward the second-year component of the major.

Requirements for a major

A major in English language usually consists of nine 12.5-point subjects, (112.5 points). It comprises:

- two first-year subjects in English language which must include 175-106 The Linguistics of English (p.2); and

Combined honours entry

Currently there is no pure honours program in English language. This means that students must combine fourth-year honours in English language with another area of study.

The prerequisites for entry to combined honours in English language are:

- completion of all the requirements for the BA; and
- completion of a major in English language; and
- an average grade of H2A or higher over the second/third-year subjects within the major; and
- admission to honours in another area of study within the Faculty of Arts.

For information on how to apply see Applying for Honours (p.13).

Honours requirements

Students undertaking combined honours in English language must complete:

- 175-517 English Language Thesis (p.2) (37.5 points); and
- two honours subjects in English language from the list below (25 points); and
- three honours subjects in the combined area of study (37.5 points).

Subject descriptions

Fourth-year subjects

175-517 English Language Thesis

Availability: 4th year

Credit points: 18.75

Coordinator: Dr Jean Mulder

Prerequisites: Admission to fourth year honours in English language.

Contact: Regular supervision over two consecutive semesters of enrolment (Semester 1, repeat 2).

Description: An original supervised research project on a topic approved by the program convenor.

Assessment: A thesis of 12,000 words 100% (due at the end of the second semester of enrolment). Students who commence the thesis in semester one will be required to prepare and present a 'poster' of their research in early October. Students who commence the thesis in semester two will be required to prepare and present a 'poster' of their research in April.

175-413 Advanced Seminars in English Language

Note: Formerly available as 175-002. Students who have completed 175-002 are not eligible to enrol in this subject.

Availability: 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

Coordinator: Dr Jean Mulder

Prerequisites: Admission to fourth year honours in English language.

Contact: A 2-hour seminar per week (Semester 1, repeat 2).

Description: This subject is a course of advanced lectures or seminars, whose topic may vary from year to year, given by members of the department or visiting scholars, leading to an advanced understanding of current debates in a particular area of the linguistics of English. Students should develop research and argumentation skills to a level where they can present original analyses orally and verbally in a particular area.

Assessment: A written project of 5000 words 100% (due at the end of the semester).

175-414 Directed Reading in English Language

Availability: 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

Coordinator: Dr Jean Mulder

Prerequisites: Admission to fourth year honours in English language.

Contact: Regular meetings with the supervisor (Semester 1, repeat 2).

Description: This is a special study conducted through extensive reading, decided by the student in conjunction with the supervisor. The subject will enhance the student's powers of independent inquiry, should encourage initiative in self-directed research, and should strengthen the student's capacities in theoretical analysis and argument.

Assessment: A written project of 5000 words 100% (due at the end of the semester).
