

Ancient Greek

The Centre for Classics and Archaeology, within the School of Historical Studies, offers a full stream of study in the ancient languages Ancient Greek and Latin, see page 1. Proficiency in both of these languages at the earliest possible stage is highly recommended for those wishing to specialise in the study of the ancient Graeco-Roman world. The ancient languages are thus a fundamental part of the major and the honours programs in Classics and in Classical Studies and Archaeology, see page 1. Both languages are available as streamed programs of study that can be commenced from first/second year. These language streams commence at both beginners and post-VCE levels. The centre also offers a Diploma in Arts (Ancient Languages), which runs concurrently with an undergraduate degree, see page 1.

Time commitment to study

As well as scheduled contact hours for lectures, tutorial and seminars a considerable additional time commitment is needed to complete the academic requirements of each subject.

A subject-specific time commitment to study will be provided by your lecturer or tutor at the beginning of semester to help you schedule your workload and successfully manage your time during the semester. In addition, general estimates of the total time commitment required to study a 12.5-point single semester subject in the Faculty of Arts can be found on page 1.

Language study streams

The School offers two streams of Ancient Greek:

Beginners

The beginners stream is available to students who have little or no knowledge of Ancient Greek. It is available to students at any year level, excluding fourth-year honours, although students intending to study Ancient Greek are advised to commence their language study in their first year.

Post-VCE

The post-VCE stream is usually only available to students who have obtained a pass in VCE Ancient Greek, or its approved equivalent.

Students should note that an intermediate sub-stream of Ancient Greek is offered within both the beginners and post-VCE streams. The intermediate sub-stream is offered in alternate years.

The structure of the Ancient Greek streams usually takes the following forms:

Language subjects

107-150 Beginners Ancient Greek A

Availability: 1st, 2nd and 3rd year

Credit points: 12.5

Coordinator: Dr K O Chong-Gossard

Contact: Three hours of lectures and a 1-hour tutorial per week (Semester 1).

Description: This subject teaches students to read Ancient Greek. It covers word formation, grammatical concepts, sentence formation and translation, and the reading of simple texts. Students are introduced to Ancient Greek of various styles, media and periods. The aim is for students to acquire the elements of the grammar, syntax and vocabulary of Ancient Greek, and attain reading skills, sufficient to begin reading literary and non-literary texts.

Assessment: Short tests in lectures 10%, weekly grammar exercises 25%, a 1-hour assessment test 25% (due mid-semester), a 1-hour examination 30% (due at the end of semester) and tutorial participation 10%. Hurdle requirements: students must attend 75% of tutorials and complete the assessment test and final exam in order to be eligible for final assessment.

Prescribed texts: Mastronarde, Introduction to Attic Greek, UCP.

107-151 Beginners Ancient Greek B

Availability: 1st, 2nd and 3rd year

Credit points: 12.5

Coordinator: Dr K O Chong-Gossard

Prerequisites: 107-150 Beginners Ancient Greek A (p.1) or an approved equivalent.

Contact: Three hours of lectures and a 1-hour tutorial per week (Semester 2).

Description: In this subject students revise the basic elements covered in Semester 1, and are introduced to more complex grammar and syntax, as well as some of the issues involved in interpreting an ancient language. Increasingly difficult texts are read from a variety of sources. By the end of the subject students should have a sufficient grasp of the language to read texts of moderate difficulty with vocabulary assistance.

Assessment: Short tests in lectures 10%, weekly grammar exercises 25%, a 1-hour assessment test 25% (due mid-semester), a 1-hour examination 30% (due at the end of semester) and tutorial participation 10%. Hurdle requirements: students must attend 75% of tutorials and complete the assessment test and final exam in order to be eligible for final assessment.

Prescribed texts: Mastronarde, Introduction to Attic Greek, UCP.

Ancient Greek subjects

107-250 Intermediate Ancient Greek A

Availability: 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th year

Credit points: 12.5

Coordinator: Assoc Prof Chris Mackie

Prerequisites: 107-151 Beginners Ancient Greek B (p.2) or an approved equivalent.

Contact: Three hours of lectures and a 1-hour tutorial per week (Semester 1).
