An example of the rare music material recently discovered on the open shelves: Luigi Boccherini, Sei Quintetti per due Violini, Alto et due Violoncelli Concertanti, Opera XX, Libro terzo di Quintetti, Paris, Venier, 1776. (Music Library collection.)
CONTENTS

PAGE 3 Musical Rarities
   by Richard Excell

PAGE 7 Lectures on Rare Law Books
   by Caitlin Stone

PAGE 8 The Accidental Wunderkammer
   by Tony Palmer

PAGE 11 What a Place for an Education by Susan Reidy, Michelle Hall and Lesley Caelli

PAGE 22 Recent Acquisitions
   by Ian Morrison

PAGE 24 The Baillieu Library Conservation Project
   by Pip Morrison and Louise Wilson

PAGE 27 The University’s 1956 Centenary Celebrations
   by Cecily Close

Cover, front and back: East Elevation of Proposed Wilson Hall, 1877 Architectural drawing showing the east elevation of Wilson Hall, proposed design by architects Reed and Barnes. Construction of the building began in 1879. Ink and watercolour drawing, Reed and Barnes architects, 26 March 1877 (with a note added 9 July 1878). (University of Melbourne Archives.)
The invitation to a parade of French fashion held on 16 September 1955, one of many Centenary fundraising events. Le Louvre is an exclusive Collins Street boutique which today, as in 1955, sells imported designer clothing to Melbourne’s well-heeled. (University Archives.)