

UTR6.72 - LESSER AWARDS

Recital-

Since 1873 the University has accepted donations and bequests for the purpose of endowing prizes, exhibitions, scholarships, bursaries and other awards.

It is provided as follows-

1. The amount of each donation or bequest forms a fund and with any additions and accumulations, the amount must be paid into an investment pool or common fund and remain there until Council directs otherwise.
2. The net annual income from each fund must be applied for the purposes of that fund as set out in the schedule.
3. The provisions of Statute 10.3 apply to this University trust record.

THE SCHEDULE^{*}

| 91 | (1986) DORIS F. CHANDLER MEMORIAL BURSARY Original Amount of Fund: $20,000 | Donor: The late Edward Valentine Rupert Chandler by his will. At the time of the bequest, music was taught by the University within the then school of Music within the faculty of Music, which amalgamated with the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts in April 2009 to form the school of Music within the faculty of the VCA and Music. A bursary which may be awarded to one or more students in any year consists of the net annual income of the fund and is open for award annually to students of the piano in the school of Music in the faculty of the VCA and Music, and which since the amalgamation is referable to students of classical piano given the origin of the bequest. The award of the bursary is made by the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor and Vice-Principal for the time being of the University being the persons appointed as special Trustees under the will. In accordance with the provisions of the will the special Trustees have absolute discretion in the selection of students eligible for a bursary and in the formation of rules applicable to its award. If more than one bursary is awarded in any year the special Trustees must determine how the net income of the fund is to be shared between recipients of the bursaries. The special Trustees by the terms of the Will 'in the selection of students and in the formation of rules for the awarding of the said bursary or bursaries ... shall have the fullest powers including the power to withhold any award at any time or times'. Accordingly, the said special Trustees have determined that if in any year the special Trustees consider that no award should be made they direct the University as to whether any surplus income from the fund is to be added to the capital of the fund or whether it is to remain available to be used as income in any subsequent year. |
| 92 | (1985) THE GRACE FUNSTON SCHOLARSHIP Original Amount of Fund: $69,207 | Donor: Miss Grace Teresa Funston by her will. | 99 | (1992) MAUD ISABELLA AIRD SCHOLARSHIP Original Amount of Fund: $27,833 | Donor: Maud Isabella Aird late of Sandringham in the State of Victoria by her will. Mrs Aird's bequest of her residuary estate to the Victorian Ministry of Education has been transferred by the Ministry to the University which has become the trustee of the residuary estate. The scholarship is available to female undergraduates enrolled in the course for the degree of bachelor of Veterinary Science. The scholarship is awarded by the Council from time to time on the recommendation of the dean of the faculty of Veterinary Science who, in making recommendations for the award of the scholarship, must take into account both the academic ability and financial need of each applicant. The tenure of the scholarship and its value must be determined by the Council on each occasion of its award. The scholar is not precluded from holding any other scholarship or award during the tenure of this scholarship and more than one Aird scholarship may be awarded at any time. |
| 100 | (1992) J.S. ANDERSON PRIZE | Previously transferred to UTR6.72A, subsequently re-incorporated in this University trust record. See s. 146 (below). |
| 101 | (1993) THE COLIN McCORMICK MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP Original Amount of Fund: $25,000 | Donor: The contributors to an appeal set up to establish a scholarship in memory of Professor Colin Angus McCormick (1924 – 1987), who founded the department of Italian Studies at the University in 1959. He was the head of that department from its foundation, and was appointed professor in 1975, a position which he held until his retirement in 1981. The Colin McCormick Memorial Scholarship is to be awarded to the first applicant ranked on a final list who has received the average of "B" grade or higher in the VCE Italian assessment and who has accepted a place to pursue Italian studies as part of a degree course. A committee, to be established by the dean of the faculty of Arts ('dean') from time to time, must determine, each year, the value of the scholarship to be awarded and the recipient. The committee has the discretion to select more than one scholarship recipient in a particular year where there is available unspent income (but the value of each additional award must not exceed the value of the initial award for that year). The dean is authorised to award the scholarship on behalf of the University. |
| 102 | (1995) MATTHEW LENNARD FUND Original Amount of Fund: $20,518 | Donor: Under the Will of George Julius Lennard late of Leeds in the United Kingdom '... to establish a fund to be known as the 'MATTHEW LENNARD FUND' in memory of my late father the income from which is to be applied in or towards the furtherance and encouragement of public performances of musical works by Graduates of the Faculty of Music of the University ... and I FURTHER DIRECT that the Council may in its absolute discretion direct that the capital of the fund be resorted to for the purposes of giving effect to this bequest.' At the time of the gift, music was taught by the University within the then school of Music within the faculty of Music, which amalgamated with the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts in April 2009 to form the school of Music within the faculty of the VCA and Music ('faculty'). The dean of the faculty on the recommendation of the head of the school of Music is authorised to apply the income of the fund on behalf of the University for the 'furtherance and encouragement of public performances of musical works by Graduates' of the faculty. |

At the time of the gift in 2005, the degree of bachelor of Music was administered as part of the then school of Music within the faculty of Music, which later amalgamated with the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts to form the school of Music in the faculty of the VCA and Music ('faculty') from April 2009. The dean of the faculty on the recommendation of the head of the school of Music is authorised to award the scholarship on behalf of the University. The scholarship is to be awarded annually. The value of the scholarship is to be the net annual income of the fund. |
| 227 | (1995) THE IRENE MITCHELL AWARD Original amount of fund: $25,000 Amount of fund at 31 December 2006 (the date immediately prior to the date on which the Victorian College of the Arts became a faculty of the University): $34,267.75 | Donor: The late Irene Gladys Henderson (also known as Irene Gladys Mitchell) a prominent theatre practitioner in Melbourne. The donation was a bequest under her will to the Victorian College of the Arts ('the College'). The College determined to use the bequest to provide for an award for Acting students. In 2009 the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts amalgamated with the faculty of Music which resulted in the formation of the faculty of the VCA and Music ('faculty'). Separate schools have been established within the faculty for each discipline offered by the faculty, one being the school of Performing Arts. The dean of the faculty ('dean') on the recommendation of the head of the school of Performing Arts ('head of school') is authorised to make the award annually on behalf of the University to reward an outstanding Acting student who has successfully completed second year. Before making any such recommendation the head of school is to consult the second year teaching staff in the discipline of Drama at the faculty. The value of the award is to be determined by the dean on the recommendation of the head of school. If recommended by the head of school the dean may make one or more minor awards as well as or in place of the award. If the head of school recommends that the award is no longer appropriate the dean may direct that the capital and income of the fund be applied in some other way for the benefit of Acting students of the discipline of Drama within the faculty. |
| 228 | (2006) THE AUSTRALIAN INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS COMMISSION CENTENNIAL PRIZE Original Amount of fund: $10,500.00 Amount of fund at 31 January 2007: Capital: $11,293.54 Accumulated Income: $479.97 | Donors: Members of the Australian Industrial Relations Commission to commemorate 100 years of federal conciliation and arbitration and to record their appreciation of the work of Professor Joe Isaac and Professor Stuart Macintyre as honorary editors of 'A New Province for Law and Order' (Cambridge 2004). The prize is to be awarded annually by Council on the recommendation of the deans of the faculties of Arts and Economics and Commerce ('the deans') to the undergraduate or postgraduate student in either of those faculties, who completes the best research work, assessed by thesis or essay, in industrial relations or labour history. Before making any such recommendation the dean must consult the President of the Australian Industrial Relations Commission. The value of the prize is to be the net annual income of the fund. |

| 229 | (1992) THE NORMA DE GRUCHY AWARDS This fund is derived from two donations totalling $6,000 made in 1992 and 1996 to the Victorian College of the Arts Foundation Amount of fund at 10 May 2007 (the date upon which the fund was received by the University on the winding up of the Victorian College of the Arts Foundation): $17,165.99 | Donor: The de Gruchy family represented by Denise de Gruchy. The income of the fund is to be applied by Council to award two annual awards to recognise talent and commitment in the study of classical dance at the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts ('the faculty'). In 2009 the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts amalgamated with the faculty of Music which resulted in the formation of the faculty of the VCA and Music ('faculty'). Separate schools have been established within the faculty for each discipline offered by the faculty, one being the school of Performing Arts. The dean of the faculty ('dean') on the recommendation of the head of the school of Performing Arts ('head of Performing Arts') is authorised to make the awards on behalf of the University in or around September to students enrolled in second year of full time study in the discipline of Dance at the faculty ('Dance'). The prizes are to be awarded, on the recommendation of the head of Performing Arts after consulting the relevant academic staff, to students who have demonstrated the most talent ('the talent prize') and the most improvement ('the improvement prize') respectively in classical dance. The value of each prize is to be determined by the dean on the recommendation of the head of Performing Arts, provided the value of the talent prize is generally greater than that of the improvement prize, and the total amount awarded does not exceed the sum of net annual income and any other unexpended income in the fund. |
| 230 | (1994) THE BRUNNER PRIZES FOR VIOLIN OR VIOLA This fund is derived from a donation of $20,000 in October 1994 to the Victorian College of the Arts Foundation Amount of fund at 10 May 2007 (the date upon which the fund was received by the University on the winding up of the Victorian College of the Arts Foundation): $36,654.42 | Donors: The Brunner family. In 2009 the faculty of Music amalgamated with the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts which resulted in the formation of a new school of Music within the faculty of the VCA and Music ('faculty'). The dean of the faculty of the VCA and Music on the recommendation of the head of the school of Music is authorised to make the award on behalf of the University. The income of the fund is to be applied to award two annual prizes to recognise excellence and commitment in the study of the violin or viola at the faculty. The prizes are to be awarded in February to students enrolled, for the first time, in the second year of full-time study in violin or viola in the school of Music. The prizes are to be awarded on the recommendation of the majority of members of a selection panel made up of the head of the school of Music and at least two others appointed by the head of the school of Music, including two other members of staff in the school of Music who between them have proficiency in violin and viola. In the case of a tie, the head of the school of Music is to have the casting vote. The prizes are to be awarded to students demonstrating the greatest natural ability ('the excellence prize') and the greatest improvement ('the improvement prize') respectively. The value of each prize is to be determined by the dean of the faculty on the recommendation of the head of the school of Music, provided the value of the excellence prize is approximately double that of the improvement prize and the total amount awarded does not exceed the sum of the net annual income and any other unexpended income in the fund. Each prize is to be paid in two equal instalments, payable in February and June. Should a prize winner discontinue their study prior to receiving the June instalment, their June instalment is to be paid into the SAF Music Provident Fund or any other fund held by the University to support students in Music. The faculty must notify the donor's representative of the prospective winners by 15 December each year. |

| 231 | (1999) THE ROB RAMAGE SCUPLTURE PRIZE Original amount of fund: $2,500 followed by further donations totalling $500 Amount of fund at 31 December 2006 (the date immediately prior to the date on which the Victorian College of the Arts became a faculty of the University): $1,897.41 | Donors: Family and friends of the late Rob Ramage a former student of the Victorian College of the Arts including Susan Sanderson and Margaret Burdett to establish a fund to provide for a prize in his memory. In 2009 the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts amalgamated with the faculty of Music which resulted in the formation of the faculty of the VCA and Music ('faculty'). Separate schools have been established within the faculty for each discipline offered by the faculty, one being the school of Art. The dean of the faculty on the recommendation of the head of the school of Art ('head of school') is authorised to award an annual prize to a third year Sculpture student in the school of Art who demonstrates quality work and a spirit of helpfulness to others studying at the faculty. Before making any such recommendation the head of school must consult the relevant academic staff in the discipline of Sculpture at the faculty. The value of the prize is to be $200. If at any time the University determines that it is impossible or impracticable to carry out the purpose for which the fund was established then it may apply the fund for such purpose as most closely accords with the original purpose after consulting with Susan Manderson a donor and sister of the late Rob Ramage for as long as she remains willing and able to so participate. |
| 232 | (1989) THE IVAN OLIVER LISTENING MUSICIAN AWARD Original amount of fund in 1989: $5,500 Amount of fund at 31 December 2007 (the date immediately before the date upon which the Victorian College of the Arts became a faculty of the University): $11,300 | Donor: Ms P W Tynan. In 2009 the faculty of Music amalgamated with the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts which resulted in the formation of a new school of Music within the faculty of the VCA and Music ('faculty'). The dean of the faculty of the VCA and Music on the recommendation of the head of the school of Music is authorised to make the award on behalf of the University. The income of the fund is to be applied to make an annual award to students in the school of Music at the faculty who specialise in jazz or improvised music. The purpose of the award is to encourage promising students who otherwise for any reason would be unable or would struggle to complete their studies. The award is to be made on the recommendation of the head of the school of Music after consulting with relevant members of staff to a student who has completed at least six months study at the faculty usually taking into account their examination results or other academic assessments. It may be awarded to a student more than once. The value of the award is to be determined by the dean of the faculty on the recommendation of the head of the school of Music provided the value does not exceed the sum of the net annual income and any other unexpended income in the fund. If recommended by the head of the school of Music, the dean of the faculty may decline to make the award in any year. Any unexpended income in the fund may be added to the capital of the fund or be retained as income to be available in any subsequent year for the specified purpose. |

| 233 | (1981) THE WILLEM VAN OTTERLOO MEMORIAL AWARD The fund was established as a result of a number of donations made between 1981 and 1996 Amount of fund at 31 December 2006 (the date immediately before the date on which the Victorian College of the Arts became a faculty of the University): $48,079.85 | Donor: A number of donors following a fundraising appeal in Australia and The Netherlands including the Erasmus Foundation, The Netherlands Consulate in Australia and Dame Elisabeth Murdoch. The award was established by the former Victorian College of the Arts (which became a faculty of the University in 2007) to perpetuate the memory of Willem Van Otterloo, Chief Conductor of the Melbourne Symphony Orchestra from 1967 to 1973, who died in a car accident on 27 July 1978. The purpose of the appeal was to establish a scholarship for 'students of orchestral instruments graduating from the Victorian College of the Arts', to assist them in 'undertaking specialised programmes of extra study with distinguished teachers overseas (preferably in Holland) before becoming professional orchestra players'. In 2009 the faculty of Music amalgamated with the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts which resulted in the formation of a new school of Music within the faculty of the VCA and Music ('faculty'). The dean of the faculty ('dean') on the recommendation of the head of the school of Music is authorised to make the award every two years on behalf of the University to a final year graduate or postgraduate student of an orchestral instrument in the school of Music. The purpose of the award is to assist awardees to travel to Europe, and preferably The Netherlands, to further their studies in music. Before making any such recommendation, the head of the school of Music must consult the relevant academic staff in the school of Music. The value of the award is to be determined by the dean on the recommendation of the head of the school of Music provided that it is no more than the net annual income and any other unexpended income in the fund. The dean on the recommendation of the head of the school of Music may decline to make the award in any year. Any unexpended income in the fund is to be retained as income to be available in any subsequent year for the award. |

| 234 | (2003) THE ANTHONY GANIM POSTGRADUATE AWARD This fund was established through a number of donations made to the Victorian College of the Arts from 2003 Amount of fund at 31 December 2006 (the date immediately prior to the date on which the Victorian College of the Arts became a faculty of the University): $11,094.94 | Donors: Family and friends of the late Anthony Ganim (a noted designer and passionate supporter of the arts) to establish a fund to provide for an award in his memory. The capital and income of the fund is to be applied by the University to make one or more annual awards to postgraduate students at the faculty of the VCA and Music (previously the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts at the time of the establishment of the award, and which was amalgamated with the faculty of Music in April 2009) to enable them to pursue significant projects in the visual or performing arts. Eligible projects are to be course related or approved by the faculty of the VCA and Music ('faculty') and made possible only with financial assistance. The dean of the faculty ('dean') is authorised to make each award on the recommendation of a selection committee appointed by the dean, in consultation with Rae Ganim and Marcia Roberts, the widow and sister of Anthony Ganim respectively, for so long as they remain willing and able to so participate. The number and value of awards is to be determined by the dean on the recommendation of the selection committee. If recommended by the selection committee, the dean may decline to make any award in any year. Any unexpended income remaining in the fund is to be retained as income and be available in any subsequent year for the award. If at any time the University determines that it is impossible or impractical to carry out the purpose for which the fund was established, then it may apply the fund for such other purpose as most closely accords with the original purpose. The University must consult with Rae Ganim and Marcia Roberts, for so long as they remain willing and able to so participate, before determining any such other purpose. |
| 235 | (1992) THE DARYL WILKINSON SCHOLARSHIP Original Amount of fund: $9,341.54 Amount of fund at 31 December 2006 (the date immediately prior to the date on which the Victorian College of the Arts became a faculty of the University): $11,203.98 | Donor: Daryl Wilkinson to establish a fund to support an encouragement award for second year students specialising in stage management. When establishing the fund Daryl Wilkinson was a sessional staff member in the discipline of Production at the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts. In 2009 the faculty of the Victorian College of the Arts amalgamated with the faculty of Music which resulted in the formation of the faculty of the VCA and Music ('faculty'). Separate schools have been established within the faculty for each discipline offered by the faculty, one being the school of Performing Arts. The dean of the faculty on the recommendation of the head of the school of Performing Arts ('head of school') or equivalent position is authorised to award a scholarship annually to the most promising second year bachelor of Production student at the faculty who is specialising in stage management. Before making any such recommendation the head of school must consult the teaching staff in stage management at the faculty. The value of the scholarship is to be $1,000 or, in the event of a shortfall in the fund, the balance of the fund. |

This followed a request made to the Foundation by the Sheridan family, whose gifts to the Foundation made the grant by it to the University possible. Dr William Sheridan graduated MBBS from the University in 1977 and is a director of the Foundation. The net annual income of the fund is to be applied by the University from time to time to assist students with demonstrated financial need. Until the further determination of the University, such application is to be on the recommendation of the Student Loans Fund and Bursaries Committee. Unspent income in any year may be added to the capital of the fund, or be retained as income to be applied in any subsequent year for the purpose of the fund. |
